

FLOYD COUNTY RADON SEMINAR
REGISTRATION FORM

The Floyd County Board of Health will be offering free radon mitigation and radon resistant new construction seminars at the Charles City Public Library at 106 Milwaukee Mall, Charles City, Iowa, from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, January 17, 2012, and Tuesday, January 24, 2012, or at the Rockford Fossil Park, 1227 – 215th Street, Rockford, Iowa, from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, March 6, 2012, and Tuesday, March 13, 2012. These seminars are free to the public and a free radon test kit will be provided to each audience member. The radon mitigation seminar will include information as to what radon is, as well as a demonstration on how to properly use a short term radon test kit and fill out and return the test kit to the laboratory for analysis. A radon mitigator will also be present to speak during the seminar with an opportunity for the audience to ask any questions they may have. The radon resistant new construction seminar will include ideas and techniques on how to reduce radon levels when constructing a new home. A local certified residential designer will be present to talk about different methods and techniques available and will provide a demonstration on how to construct mitigated footing and foundation components. Please fill out and return the registration form to: Floyd County Board of Health, Courthouse, 101 S. Main Street, Charles City, Iowa 50616 or feel free to contact Misty at 641-257-6145 for additional information.
